Description

These flaky Danish pastries are a timeconsuming project but theyre a perfect way to show people how much you love them I like serving them at special brunches The puff pastry dough and almond filling can be made ahead of time and the pastries can be frozen before baking

Ingredients

- - 1 cup almond paste - 2 ¾ cups ground almonds - ½ cup white sugar - 1 pinch salt - 2 tablespoons butter - 2 egg whites - ½ teaspoon almond extract - 2 teaspoons amaretto liqueur - 3 pounds puff pastry - 1 egg - 1 tablespoon water - 3 tablespoons sliced almonds
- for garnish - 3 tablespoons confectioners' sugar for dusting

Instructions

1. In a large bowl
2. beat almond paste with an electric mixer to break it apart. Add the almonds
3. sugar
4. and salt; continue to mix until the almond paste is no longer lumpy. Stir in the butter
5. egg whites
6. almond extract and amaretto liqueur on high speed until its as fluffy as you can get it. Set aside. Using half of the dough at a time
7. roll it out on a lightly floured surface into a rectangle that is about 8 inches wide and 1/4 inch thick. Trim the edges of the dough. Cut the dough in half lengthwise to make two 4 inch wide strips. Preheat the oven to 400 degrees F (200 degrees C). Line baking sheets with parchment paper. Fill a pastry bag halfway with the almond filling and pipe a stripe of filling down the center of each strip. Whisk together the egg and water. Brush onto one edge of each strip. Fold each strip over the filling and press gently to seal it. Brush each piece with egg wash and sprinkle sliced almonds over the top. Cut into 3 to 4 inch pieces
8. then cut 1/2 inch slits into the sealed edge to make the "claws". Place the bear claws at least two inches apart on baking sheets. Refrigerate and repeat with the second half of the dough. Bake in the preheated oven until almonds are toasted and pastry is golden brown
9. 25 to 30 minutes. Cool and dust with confectioners' sugar right before serving. LatinaCook Cook's Note This recipe makes enough filling for about six dozen bear claws. You can cut the recipe down
10. but I like to make a big batch for several reasons: the bear claws keep indefinitely in the freezer; the recipe is harder to make in small quantities (it's more difficult to grind almonds in a food processor in small amounts); and the filling is delicious in coffee cakes and other baked goods.
